

Ben and his legacy

"Hi I'm Ben, my wife Joanne and I live with our two daughters in Melbourne. I had my first in-house experience when I volunteered for a working bee at Ronald McDonald House Parkville in the 90s. This was the first time I got to see first- hand the amazing work that the charity does.

I've come to learn a lot more about what Ronald McDonald House Charities Victoria & Tasmania does and how it benefits so many families caring for seriously ill children. I've seen so many families touched by the great work of the staff and volunteers and I felt it was important to ensure that would continue long into the future.

I think it's important to consider how you can do something that will have a lasting impact on a charity that you feel passionate about. Joanne and I decided to include RMHC VIC & TAS in our Will. Obviously our family and loved ones come first, but leaving a gift that supports the work of RMHC will be a wonderful legacy.

Making a donation through your Will is something that anyone can do. It doesn't need to be a large sum, but an enduring gift can make a difference in the support of RMHC.

RMHC is a great charity to consider when making your arrangements. I'd encourage everyone to think about RMHC when you complete your will."
